Verse 1:

In this world of plenty, we search for more Amidst the noise and chaos, we crave to explore The endless possibilities, the wealth of the land
But does it bring us happiness, or do we misunderstand?

Chorus:

Welcome to the abyss of abundance Where desires run deep and dreams come true
But will it fulfill your heart's substance Or leave you lost and feeling blue?

Verse 2:

The lights of the city, they shine so bright
But the shadows they cast, they hide the plight Of those who struggle, who cannot keep up
Is the price of progress, really worth the cut?

Can we find a way to balance
The lure of wealth and the need for romance To cherish what we have, without craving more
To find contentment, without a score

Outro:

The abyss of abundance, it calls to us all But it's up to us, to answer the call To find our own way, in this world of plenty To seek the truth, and find our own serenity.

In the abyss of abundance
We drown in our own greed Blinded by our lust for power
We sow the seeds of our own defeat

Our minds consumed by desire Our hearts filled with blackened fire
We seek to claim it all Ignoring the inevitable fall

The abyss of abundance
Is a curse and a bane
As we sink deeper and deeper We realize the price we must pay

Our souls lost in the shadows
Our hopes shattered and hollow
We must face the truth at last And accept our fate, no matter how vast

In the abyss of abundance
We learn the hard way
That nothing lasts forever
And all we can do is pray

For redemption and forgiveness
For a chance to start anew
And never again fall victim To the abyss of abundance's deadly brew.

and riches can't fill this void a deep and endless abyss that swallows everything whole money can't buy happiness nor can it buy true love but it can lead us down a path to a life we can't get enough the more we have, the more we want the emptier we feel inside with each dollar we try to hide we chase after material things hoping they will bring us joy but in the end, we're left with nothing but an endless void to destroy love, family, and friendships we hold let's not be consumed by the abyss and find a life of true abundance to behold
